

Wyevale Nurseries

2027 CATALOGUE

WHO ARE WE

Wyevale Nurseries,
established in 1930 by Harry Williamson, is a prominent family-run wholesale
nursery in the UK

A true pioneer, Harry was one of the first to see the potential to grow and market plants in containers. Today, that legacy is continued by Harry's granddaughter Heather who steers the family business growing trees, transplants and other hardy nursery plants.

The family-run ethos remains strong with Wyevale Nurseries now being known for its diverse, award-winning plant selection, supplying garden centres, landscape contractors, and landowners with a wide range of plants.

Wyevale Nurseries' product selection is envied across the industry and utilising the latest innovative approaches to production and sustainability, the talented team regularly introduces new, award-winning plant varieties.

The business continues to develop and innovate to meet changing customer needs and is always striving for quality of product and service in all it does.

Where are we

We are based in charming and rural Herefordshire. Nestled between England and Wales, hugged by the Malvern Hills and the Bannau Brycheiniog (Brecon Beacons) Herefordshire is predominantly agricultural, best known for its fruit and cider production, Herefordshire Cattle, and home of the Special Air Service (SAS)!

For our retail customers

We are proud to be seen as a quality supplier, to UK Garden Centres. Our small but knowledgeable team works closely alongside our customers to understand their needs, meaning we can offer a bespoke package. We anticipate and understand the ever-changing marketplace, and always welcome feedback from new and existing customers on ways we can tailor our offer to suit your needs.

What are our future plans

Wyevale Nurseries continues to thrive. Striving to meet and exceed customers' expectations in a sustainable way. Key to our long-term success is innovating in production methodology, reviewing and raising environmental targets and investing in infrastructure and personnel.

We look forward to sharing a very 'green' future with you.

Growing a More Sustainable Future

Sustainability is at the heart of how Wyevale Nurseries operates. Our long-term strategy focuses on reducing environmental impact, supporting biodiversity, and producing high quality UK grown plants that contribute positively to people and the planet.

WHAT WE FOCUS ON

- Peat Free Growing

100% peat free tree production and 80% peat free across shrubs and perennials, with ongoing trials to go fully peat free.

- Water Conservation

Rainwater harvesting collects over 5 million litres annually, supported by smart irrigation systems that reduce water waste by around 30%.

- Lower Carbon Footprint

Investment in electric vehicles, energy efficient infrastructure and recyclable packaging. UK grown plants help avoid around 500 tonnes of CO₂ each year.

- Biodiversity & Nature Recovery

Supplying over 2 million native trees and hedging plants annually for rewilding, afforestation and Biodiversity Net Gain projects. Chemical use reduced by 60% through Integrated Pest Management.

- Waste Reduction & Land Care

Eliminating single use plastics in production, expanding reusable packaging, recycling extensively, and improving soil health through crop rotation.

Our Top Picks!

Colin Stanley

Garden Centre Sales Manager

Top Pick: Miscanthus Lady in Red

'New to our range and a real statement plant, my top pick has to be Miscanthus Lady in Red. With impressive arching green/ red foliage that turns to vivid deep red as the cooler autumn weather approaches, Miscanthus Lady in Red makes a striking addition to the late summer and autumn garden looking it's very best when so many of the other plants are past theirs. Additionally, it is easy to grow and maintain and will tolerate dry conditions growing to around 1.2m so ideal for the smallest gardens or even a container.'

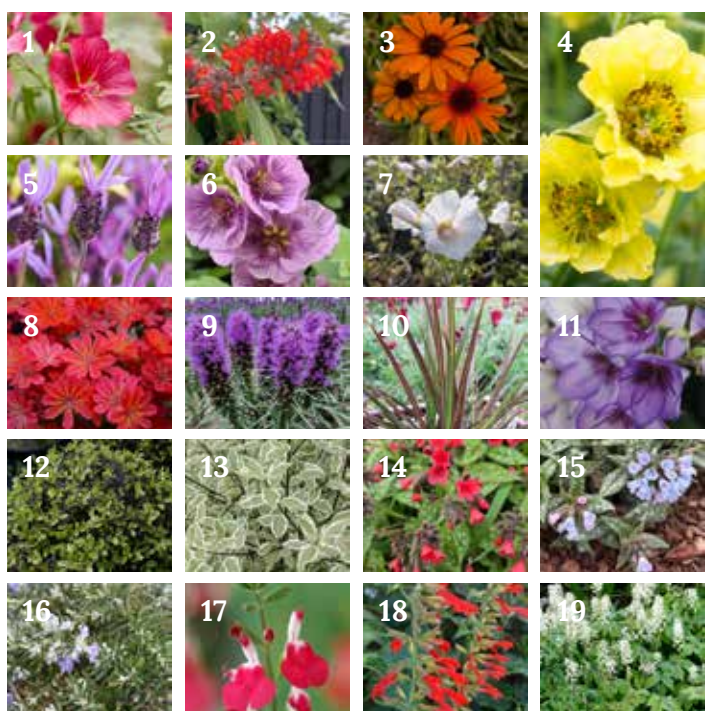

Lisa Ashford

Garden Centre Sales Executive

Top Pick: Pulmonaria Shrimps on the Barbie

'I've chosen Pulmonaria Shrimps on the Barbie as my Top Pick for 2027. With rich coral to shrimp-pink flowers and attractive foliage that looks like it has been splashed with silver, Pulmonaria Shrimps on the Barbie is an easy choice as my Top Pick. Flowering from March it offers a bright pop of colour, works hard to lift shady corners of the garden and is a valuable early source of nectar for bees!'

Choisya x dewitteana Goldfingers

Choisya x dewitteana 'Goldfingers' (Mexican Orange Blossom) is a compact, evergreen shrub featuring slender, bright golden-yellow foliage and fragrant, star-shaped white flowers. Highly aromatic, it brings excellent year-round colour and a citrus-like scent to UK gardens.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Choisya x dewitteana Greenfingers

A striking evergreen shrub, producing an abundance of fragrant, pink-tinted white flowers throughout spring and early summer - often with a second flush in autumn. The dark green foliage gives you interest all year, and as it is more compact than some of the other Choisya, making it better suited to smaller gardens or patios.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Choisya x dewitteana White Dazzler

A smaller more compact growing shrub, with palmate dark green leaves. Flowering in early spring and again in late autumn with an abundance of small white fragrant blooms. A great dependable plant with textured foliage.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Convolvulus cneorum

A fantastic evergreen shrub to add some foliage variation and colour to borders and beds. With narrow oblong silvery leaves, this plant is suited to a full sun position. White funnel shaped blooms with yellow centres flower throughout spring and summer and often appear pink while in bud.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Daphne odora x bholua Perfume Princess

As the name suggests, Perfume Princess provides a gorgeous scent from the pretty pale pink flowers, which adorn its stems during spring. It is a slow growing hardy evergreen shrub, which forms a neat, rounded habit. Can be planted in borders or containers.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Euonymus japonicus Paloma Blanca

A fantastic variety with new foliage emerging pure white and aging to a deep, rich green, giving stunning contrast and impact. This truly versatile plant is compact and upright in form. It can be used as a standalone, part of mixed borders, or to form an eye-catching low hedge. An ideal alternative to Buxus sempervirens.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Euonymus japonicus White Spire

An upright variegated Euonymus, which is perfect for low hedges or as a specimen in a pot. This wonderful new addition to the genus retains its colours all year round, is hardy to -15c and can be grown in all soil types. We are the only UK nursery with a licence to propagate this great plant.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Exochorda racemosa Niagara

Excellent for early sales. A deciduous shrub with green oval shaped leaves that comes into real beauty in May. Masses of white blooms last for many weeks making this an extremely pretty addition to any garden, courtyard, bed, or container. Supplied on a 90cm cane.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Fatsia japonica Camouflage

Fatsia Camouflage is a striking evergreen shrub with uniquely patterned foliage. Its large, glossy leaves are deep green, splashed with lime green creating a captivating camouflage effect. This Fatsia variety thrives in shaded areas and adapts well to various soil types. It adds a touch of tropical elegance to gardens, borders and shady corners making it a visually appealing choice for landscape designs.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Fatsia japonica Spider's Web

A Wyevale speciality and an increasingly popular bushy evergreen shrub which looks great throughout the year. Large flat leaves are deeply lobed in mid green, with white edges appearing as if they have been dusted with icing sugar. It looks great within a courtyard setting planted with white flowers or variegations. Will suit a sheltered site in beds, borders, or containers.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Forsythia x intermedia Week End

Everyone's early season favourite. A medium sized deciduous shrub with bright yellow flowers in spring before the leaves appear. Week End is one of the best free flowering and compact varieties.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Hardy Fern Collection

The best range for leaf shape, texture and form. Supplied as a good pot full of fresh foliage. Ideal for shade garden displays. Link with other shade lovers such as Hostas and Helleborus.

Jacobinia pauciflora Firefly

Flowering from late December through to early summer, Firefly provides an eye-catching display for impulse sales. An attractive, compact growing and very rounded evergreen shrub, which is dripping with tubular bicoloured flowers, vivid orange at the base changing to bright yellow at the tip. A sun loving plant, which will bring early season colour to any garden.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Lomandra White Sands

A fantastic variety with soft variegated foliage and small yellow flowers throughout the summer. An ideal low-maintenance grass for containers, beds, and borders to give architectural interest and evergreen colour.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Magnolia stellata

Beautiful white star like flowers bloom on bare stems in early spring, reaching 10cm wide from furry buds. The leaves then appear, which are rounded and narrow. A very slow growing shrub, but well worth the wait. Great for containers, beds, or borders.

Size: 5L | Promo size: 15

Mahonia eurybracteata ganpinensis Meteor

An exciting addition to our range. Meteor's rich deep red spring growth sets it apart from other varieties and its stunning yellow flower spikes forming in late summer through autumn enlighten the garden like Meteorites, giving this plant its topical name. With season long interest, Meteor is perfect for any well drained garden or container.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Phormium Collection

Fabulous Flax are one of Wyevale's specialities! We offer a fine selection of these evergreen beauties in a range of colours and forms. Use to add architectural interest and height to displays or promote on their own.

- Phormium Gold Ray
- Phormium Jester
- Phormium Platt's Black
- Phormium Sundowner
- Phormium Surfer
- Phormium Yellow Wave

Photinia x fraseri Carré Rouge

If you're looking for a more compact Photinia with bright red new growth, then choose Carré Rouge. One of the very best new varieties, it forms a neat and compact shrub, with regular pointed leaves.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Prunus incisa Kojo-no-mai

A very delicate, pretty, deciduous shrub that has bare twigs which bloom in early spring with tiny white-pink flowers. The young leaves are pale green turning into an impressive array of autumn colours. A neat compact plant that is slow growing and has a Japanese feel, so great for a contemporary garden, though also suited for a cottage garden.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Rosmarinus officinalis Green Ginger

As its name suggests, this rosemary has ginger-scented leaves that can be used as a culinary herb. Growing up to 90cm in height and spread, it prefers a sunny position in the garden.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Rosmarinus officinalis Miss Jessopp's Upright

Every garden deserves at least one rosemary, and Miss Jessopp's Upright is one of the best. With a very upright habit and fantastic aromatic foliage holding masses of light blue flowers. Great in the garden and essential in the kitchen so this wonderful evergreen is the perfect plant. A magnet for wildlife and will make a very neat, aromatic hedge so a winner all round!

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Rosmarinus officinalis Whitewater Silver

Introducing a new addition to our collection: this exceptional prostrate variety of rosemary features a cascading growth habit and white undersides on its fragrant leaves. It produces stunning deep blue flowers in spring and early summer. This plant reaches a height and spread of approximately 40cm by 90cm. Thrives in well-drained soil and prefers full sun or light shade.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Sarcococca hookeriana Purple Gem

A real winter gem with long elegant shiny leaves against beautiful deep purple stems. Flowering from February to April with sweet scented flowers that are attractive to hungry overwintered bees. Ideal for sun or shady areas.

Size: 2L | Promo size: 30

A close-up photograph of two bright yellow flowers, likely poppies, with dark brown centers. The petals are ruffled and layered. The word "March" is written in a white, serif font across the middle of the image, positioned between the two flowers. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green.

March

Ajuga reptans Black Scallop

Ajuga Black Scallop is a low-growing mint family plant with sleek, dark foliage. It produces deep blue tubular flowers in spring that attract pollinators. It grows well in partially shaded, well-drained, moist soil and can be used in rock gardens, woodland gardens, and borders. The plant is easy to care for, requires minimal maintenance and is drought tolerant. It's dense foliage can help suppress weed growth and contrasts beautifully with other plants.

Size: 2L | Promo size: 30

Allium Eros

Reaching 45cm tall, this Allium has attractive umbels of large pink-lilac flowers up to 10cm diameter in early summer. Excellent in containers, or as an interesting plant for bed ends.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Bergenia Diamond Drops

A lovely dwarf variety with compact flower heads of brilliant white flowers, which shimmer above the glossy deep green foliage. Low growing, evergreen and suitable for shady borders, woodland planting, perennial borders or container gardens.

Size: 2L | Promo size: 30

Bergenia Dragonfly Sakura

Lovely compact form with semi-double, pink bell-shaped flowers that emerge on red stems in spring. Leaves turn purple red in autumn for superb late colour. Very hardy and easy to maintain.

Size: 2L | Promo size: 30

A close-up photograph of Bergenia Fire And Ice flowers. The flowers are white with deep pink sepals and are arranged in clusters on a reddish-pink stem. The background shows green foliage.

March

Bergenia Fire And Ice

A handsome, bold, architectural Bergenia, perfect for your shady spots. Pink-tinged white flowers with deep pink sepals are held in clusters above rosettes of evergreen foliage each spring. Bergenia are also known as pigsqueak because of the sound you get when you rub two leaves together.

Size: 2L | Promo size: 30

Bergenia Vintage Rose

Vivid bright pink flowers with deep red stalks appearing in spring and often again in autumn. Foliage turns dark burgundy in autumn and winter. Perfect for a shady, woodland garden.

Size: 2L | Promo size: 30

Campanula glomerata Caroline

Suitable for banks, beds and containers, this small lilac-pink bellflower blooms throughout summer. With dark green herbaceous leaves in clusters facing upwards, it makes the ideal plant for a small corner or within rockeries.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

A close-up photograph of several purple bell-shaped flowers (Campanula persicifolia) with yellow centers, covered in water droplets. The flowers are set against a blurred background of green foliage and a wooden fence. A small insect is visible on the center of one of the flowers.

March

Campanula persicifolia Blue Bloomers

This deciduous perennial has narrow green leaves and violet blue double flowers throughout summer. Although spreading this plant has a clump forming and erect habit suitable for herbaceous areas, rockeries, and containers.

Choisya ternata

A great shrub for both garden and parkland settings, this evergreen has dark green glossy leaves divided into three broad leaflets. It has a very long flowering season, starting in spring and sometimes continuing into winter, with small scented white flowers. Great for any full sun position and can be trimmed back as required.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Coprosma Eclipse

An absolutely gorgeous evergreen shrub with glossy dark purple foliage lined with vibrant pink edges. This is a real eye-catching addition to the garden and will add colour and interest over an exceptionally lengthy period.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Coprosma repens Pina Colada

Super glossy, golden yellow leaves turning to orange red in cooler weather. Perfect to plant where the full sun can reflect on the kaleidoscope of colourful foliage, it can also bring light to any shady spot. Drought and salt spray tolerant so great for coastal areas too.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Cordyline australis Charlie Boy

A fantastic striking Cordyline with burgundy leaves bordered by almost luminous deep pink edges. A vibrant statement plant for any garden. Ideal for sunny borders or container planting.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Cordyline australis Lime Passion

This Cordyline variety offers one of the brightest lime and cream variegated foliage. An excellent architectural addition to the garden or in a patio container. Prefers a sheltered location.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Cordyline australis Torbay Dazzler

This particularly lovely decorative evergreen palm, bears sword-shaped leaves with green and cream stripes. Its low-maintenance habit makes it perfect for growing in pots or as part of a mixed herbaceous border.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Dianella revoluta Coolvista

Dianella revoluta Coolvista is a compact and hardy perennial with attractive strap-like leaves. It forms neat clumps and produces delicate blue flowers in spring followed by decorative purple berries. It thrives in various soil types and can tolerate both full sun and partial shade. Coolvista is a versatile plant that adds beauty to gardens, borders and containers.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Digitalis purpurea Pam's Choice

Flowering throughout summer, this gorgeous foxglove has white trumpet shaped flowers with red blotches inside. Great clumping basal foliage in deep green. Ideal for beds and herbaceous borders. Supplied in the green.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Dryopteris wallichiana Jurassic Gold

Jurassic Gold has fast become one of our most popular fern varieties. Retaining that Dryopteris ruggedness, this fern erupts with golden new foliage in the spring. A must have in any garden! Shade and moisture tolerant, this hardy fern will grow well in a patio pot or planted in groups for a striking gold contrast.

Size: 3L | Promo size: 21

Escallonia laevis Pink Elle

This fantastic Escallonia produces massive heads of flowers in abundance throughout summer in a lovely mid pink, all held at the end of the stems. Pink Elle reaches an ultimate height of 1m, so is great for smaller gardens as it forms a neat compact plant. Evergreen foliage which is rich and glossy provides a contrast to the flowers. Climate Champions

Gardeners today are seeking plants that provide more than mere aesthetic beauty. They desire plants that are dependable, support wildlife, and can withstand varying weather conditions. We have conducted an extensive review of our selection to pinpoint plants that rise to these challenges while still offering excellent value for gardens.

By understanding and promoting the climate benefits of plants, individuals and communities can make informed decisions that support both local ecosystems and global sustainability efforts. To assist with this, Wyevale have identified key plants in our range as Climate Champions, selected for their contribution to:

1. Carbon Sequestration

Plants absorb carbon dioxide (CO₂) from the atmosphere through photosynthesis and store it in their leaves, and roots. This process helps reduce the concentration of greenhouse gases, which are a major contributor to global warming.

2. Temperature Regulation

Plants regulate the temperature of the surrounding air through transpiration, shading, and microclimate creation. They act as natural cooling systems for their local environments.

3. Air Purification

Some plants can improve air quality by filtering pollutants such as nitrogen oxides, sulphur dioxide, ammonia, and ozone. They also trap airborne particles like dust, smoke, and pollen on their foliage.

4. Water Cycle Support

Plants help retain moisture in the soil, moving water into the air through transpiration, slowing down rainwater runoff, and helping water sink into the soil.

5. Biodiversity Enhancement

Plants support biodiversity by forming the foundational base of the ecosystem. Plants provide habitats for a wide range of species, food via leaves, nectar and seeds, and physical shelter around nesting sites.

6. Sustainable Resource Provision

Plants provide sustainable resources by continually renewing themselves, absorbing carbon dioxide, and enriching the soil through natural biological cycles. They offer vital essentials like oxygen, food, and raw materials without depleting the Earth if managed properly.

The team at Wyevale has thoroughly examined hundreds of plants to find those most appropriate for contemporary gardening challenges. This is just a glimpse of what we have to offer.

Agapanthus

Agapanthus, often called African Lily, is a popular group of summer flowering perennial plants which feature large, globe shaped clusters of trumpet flowers.

What makes this a Climate Champion?

Agapanthus provide significant environmental benefits by supporting local biodiversity with nectar-rich blooms that attract pollinators like bees and butterflies. Their robust, drought-tolerant nature and ability to thrive in poor soils reduce the need for intensive watering, artificial fertilizers, and chemical pesticides in the garden.

Ceanothus

Ceanothus, otherwise known as Californian Lilac, are a group of fantastic evergreen shrubs with profuse, rich blue summer flowers emerging in clusters from April through to June.

What makes this a Climate Champion?

The dense clusters of flowers are highly nectar-rich, making them an essential food source for bees and butterflies during the crucial spring and early summer. Like many species in the California Lilac family, it can form symbiotic relationships with nitrogen-fixing bacteria in its root system enabling the enrichment of nutrient-poor soil. Its glossy, dark-green leaves are retained year-round, meaning this plant provides a reliable nesting environment for local bird populations.

Lavender

Lavandula are popular, aromatic, drought-tolerant garden plants. Celebrated for dense flower spikes of intensely fragrant, deep violet flowers rising above slender, aromatic, foliage Lavender are a popular choice in many gardens.

What makes this a Climate Champion?

The highly fragrant, flowers provide a vital source of nectar and pollen for foraging insects. While it actively attracts beneficial insects like ladybugs, the strong aromatic oils naturally repel many common garden pests such as Moths, flies & fleas without the need for chemical sprays. When planted en masse or used as low hedging, the dense root system of lavender helps anchor the soil, aiding in soil erosion control.

Nepeta

Nepeta faassenii 'Purrsian Blue' is a highly popular, compact variety of catmint known for its neat dome of aromatic, grey-green foliage and dense spikes of lavender-blue flowers held in dark purple calyxes.

What makes this a Climate Champion?

'Purrsian Blue' produces an abundance of nectar that sustains bees and butterflies throughout the summer and early autumn. It is widely recognized for supporting healthy garden ecosystems. Once established, this compact catmint is highly drought-tolerant and requires far less supplemental watering than traditional landscape plants. The plant's essential oils (nepetalactone) naturally keep common garden pests such as ants, flea beetles, and aphids at bay without the use of harsh, environment-damaging pesticides.

Perovskia Prime Time

A compact, upright perennial usually grown as an annual, with oval-shaped, aromatic green leaves and dense spikes of tubular-shaped, intense bluepurple flowers over a long period in summer and autumn.

What makes this a Climate Champion?

'Prime Time' produces large, dense lavender-purple flower spikes that bloom earlier and longer than traditional varieties, providing an extended source of nectar for essential pollinators. These sub-shrubs thrive in poor, rocky, and alkaline soils. They require no added synthetic fertilizers, preventing nutrient runoff into local waterways. The highly aromatic, mintyscented foliage acts as a natural deterrent, making it resistant against deer, rabbits, and squirrels, and eliminating the need for chemical pesticides.

Phormium

Phormiums, commonly known as New Zealand flax, have been around for centuries. With their sword-like leaves and striking colours, these varieties not only differ in colour but also in size, making them versatile for various garden designs.

What makes this a Climate Champion?

Phormiums are not just about aesthetics. They improve air quality, require minimal space, and are incredibly resilient. Their ability to thrive in containers makes them perfect for balconies and terraces. Phormiums are champions of sustainability. They require minimal water, making them perfect for drought-prone areas. Additionally, their ability to absorb pollutants assists in making the air cleaner and fresher.

Salvia

Salvias bring a stunning array of colors late in the growing season, showcasing their upright spikes adorned with jewel-toned flowers. This genus encompasses both annuals and perennials, including varieties that are hardy as well as tender. Salvia is an RHS Plant for Pollinators; the flowers of the herb sage are particularly popular with bees.

What makes this a Climate Champion?

Salvia is highly attractive to bees, butterflies, and other beneficial insects. The aromatic foliage is rich in natural essential oils, making the plant naturally resistant to common pests including flea beetles, and aphids. Once established, is incredibly drought-tolerant, surviving well in the unpredictable conditions common in the UK. Planting this hardy salvia near other garden staples can naturally prevent fungal diseases like black spot and reduce mildew.
